

Global Environmental Leaders (GEL) Seminar: Project and Management Series

From October 27, NUGELP invited lecturers from IC-Net, the leading development consultant company, and hosted 4-day P2M (Project and Program Management) lecture series as a part of Global Environmental Leaders (GEL) Seminar. In these lectures participants learned about P2M, which is a well-known certificate, becoming more and more popular in various fields including international development projects. By the end of the series, participants worked very hard in the seminar to master this practical skill as a global environmental leader.
